Bowers Beach Maritime Museum

3357 Main Street

Bowers Beach, Delaware 19946

The Bowers Beach Maritime Museum is a small community supported museum dedicated to preserving and displaying the maritime history of the town of Bowers Beach Delaware.

The museum houses a collection of artifacts and photographs that reveal the rich maritime history of this fishing town located on the shores of the Delaware Bay.

From its early days as a fishing community to a vibrant town filled with vacationers arriving on the steamship Frederica to enjoy the casinos and dance halls to present day as a popular locale for recreational and commercial fisherman the museum will guide you through the ever changing maritime history of the town of Bowers Beach.
