261 General rules for procedures and practices to be followed when dealing with this court.
270 Rules describe which days Court would be held, how writs were to be returned to the court, and when pleadings or answers would be heard.
The text further explains rule days are for bringing records before the Court, and for hearing appeals or errors specified by the plaintiff or appellant. Note on printed rules directs that the Clerks of the Supreme Court and prothonotaries of all the counties are to receive copies of the High Court's rules.
