 261 Case record books of serious offenses by juveniles, heard by the Juvenile Court.
 270 Entries show date; case number; names of complainant, defendant, parents or guardian of defendant, and witnesses; charge; plea; fine and cost; and descriptive disposition of case. Both dockets cover the same period.
 One is a rough docket which contains abbreviated dispositions for all complaints brought before the court. The formal court docket includes only those more serious offenses omitting the lesser ones; contains more complete disposition descriptions and different case numbers. Record gives more information on the cases than appears in docket.
