261 The Authority was created to provide stable employment by financing the construction, acquisition, rehabilitation, modernization or renovation of commercial, industrial and agricultural facilities in the state. The volumes are a record of the bonds issued by the Authority and its predecessor agency, the Department of Community Affairs and Economic Development.
270 The Bond Books contain the legal documentation required for the issuance of bonds. They show the amount of the bonds; names of the bond issuers, purchasers, borrowers, guarantors, and trustees; interest rates; and closing dates. Documents may include a copy of the bond, bond purchase agreement, loan agreement, assignment of loan agreement, not of borrower, security documents, authority documents, borrower's documents, guarantor's documents, opinions of counsel, correspondence, and settlement sheet.
