261 Records maintained on houses and other buildings suspected of lead contamination.
270 Files may include a Lead Poisoning Prevention Program inspection sheet, Notice of Lead Paint Violation form, or other similar forms to document visits and testing. These records may show the date, address, resident's name, owner's name, who took the samples and did the testing, date tested, method of analysis, location of paint chipping and flaking, dates re-inspected, notes on work done to remedy the problems, age of children, and sample analysis readings for various rooms. A floor plan of houses with lead problems may be included to show the locations of lead problems.
