261 Files pertaining to roadway construction projects planned and managed by the Department of Transportation.
270 The records in this collection document stages of planning for Department of Transportation roadway projects. Documents include bids, archeological studies of proposed worksites from Historical and Cultural Affairs, project plans, maps, revisions, permits, progress reports, correspondence with contractors, and project change orders. Also included in this collection are arbitration documents between the Department of Transportation and contractors which disclose the details of the conflict and terms of settlement. Project meeting schedules, minutes and transcripts are included as well as reports on traffic and toll revenue. Department studies evaluating guardrails, lighting, pavement, traffic, drainage, utilities, and landscaping for proposed projects are enclosed as well.

Environmental impact is documented in correspondence between the Department of Transportation and concerned groups. Environmental studies are regularly included in project files. This collection also includes records from the SR1 Steering Committee, a group dedicated to the development of the Route 1 corridor in Delaware.
