261 Minutes for regular and special meetings of the Commission pertaining to regulating labor and promoting labor laws.
27X Minutes show date and place of meeting, members in attendance, matters under consideration, including the election of officers, appointments of child labor law and women's ten hour law inspectors; issuance of employment certificates to minors; investigations into public inquiries relating to labor laws and violations there of; discussions of relevant legislation and reports from inspectors or special committees, and financial concerns. The Child Labor Commission lasted just under fourteen months and most of the documentation concerns the newly appointed Child Labor Law Inspectors lack of ability to comprehend and enforce the laws. The second part of first volume and the second volume contain the minutes of the Labor Commission, the successor agency.
