261 Levy Court or Court of General Sessions orders to remove an insane person from the county jail to the almshouse. Also included with the court orders is an order for the return of an apprentice and a writ of sequestration to force payment of support from an absconded husband.
270 Orders to remove the insane entries give the names of the inmate and the constable to whom the order was directed, the date, and the signature of the Clerk of the Peace. The order for the return of an apprentice is from Salem County, New Jersey and shows the date, the names of the apprentice and master, place of residence, and the signatures of the apprentice and the justice of the peace. The writ of sequestration shows the names of the husband and wife, amount of needed support, the date, and the signatures of the president and secretary of the trustees.
