 900 A volume for the years from 1877-1881 is contained in the back of a docket index. (For information on the docket index, see the applicable description in this record group.) It appears that each sheriff utilized his own format for recording information. Some provided more information than others. For example, the 1921-1922 volume includes pertinent receipts attached to the pages but has less information pertaining to court costs. James Green's volume (1849-1852) also includes the account of his mill for the years from 1850 through 1852. For information on the mill accounts, see the description "Fee Book of James Green" in RG 9025 (Private Accounts).
