261 A listing and valuation of property for the purpose of apportioning a tax upon it. Assessment lists are created by the assessors appointed in each hundred.
270 Assessments include regular lists, general lists and error and delinquent lists. `Regular lists'- are the ones compiled within each hundred (about 1915, charged to districts) that usually contain only the name of the taxable and the rate at which he is to be taxed. Occasionally regular lists will contain additional information concerning buildings, personal possessions, livestock and slaves. General lists are composites made from the individual `hundred' or `regular' lists. `Error' and `delinquent' lists record the names of non-paying taxables and note the reasons, such as infirmity, poverty, movement to other hundreds, counties or states. Records for 1976-1985 deed book references as well as other information as herein noted.
290 Usually the year and hundred are written on the outside of volume or list.
