261 Photostatic copies of a Journal, Order Book, payrolls and other records kept by Robert Kirkwood, primarily relating to his Revolutionary War service in the Delaware Regiment of the Continental Army.
27X The Book of General Orders (1777) includes copies of various types of military orders, proceedings of court martials, company muster rolls and returns, musical scores, and journal entries of regimental events. The last two pages contain a list of the marches made by the Delaware Regiment. Payrolls (1777-1781) list the month and year, name of soldier, rank, date commencement of pay, time of service, amount of pay, and notations if sick, prisoner, wounded, dead, etc. The Journal (1780-1782) describes the Southern Campaign and includes copies of correspondence between General Clinton and General Lincoln relating to the surrender of Charleston, South Carolina. Also included are copies of depreciation certificates (1782-1784), a list of Indian nations in the northern part of the U. S. (1778), charts for distances from Lancaster, Pennsylvania to Wheeling, West Virginia and Fort Pitt to the Mississippi River, laws for the Northwest Territory, and account and legal actions in the Northwest Territory.
