

000 9200
001 L10
002 001
003
004
005 Small Manuscript Collection
006 Landreth Lee Layton Scrapbook
140 Newspaper Clippings Collection
143 1889-1985
200 1933
210 1933
220
240 0.49 cf.
241 Reg. Flat-19 box
261 Newspaper clippings collected by Landreth Lee Layton, Jr., most relating to governmental efforts to combat the depression in the 1930s. Layton was a wholesale grocery company executive known for his controversial editorials in local newspapers.
270 Subjects include the banking crisis and bank holiday, end of prohibition, Franklin D. Roosevelt, Herbert Hoover, Adolf Hitler, theft of liquor from the Penny Hill State Police Station, state legislation, and editorials on various subjects.
290
310
329 FILM:
 for preservation
330 Arranged alphabetically by subject heading.
331 No index.
332 Printed.
350
360 Poor condition. Acid and storage damage.
370
390
420 2004176.
430 Clippings were removed and placed in acid-free folders because most were loose and the scrapbook had very acidic pages.
990 October 5, 2004
995
rlg