

We, members of the newly-formed Better Government League, are deeply interested in the continuation of the administration of our state government on the high plane set by our present Governor, C. Douglass Buck, whose conduct of the state's business has been highly satisfactory during his term of office.

We realize that during the next few years many more questions of vital importance to the welfare of the state are to be decided and that the solution of these problems will call for a high order of ability.

Members of our state judiciary are to be appointed during the term of the next Governor; large sums of money must be spent to carry out our school and road building programs; there will be many intricate problems dealing with tax matters and public service affairs.

Governor Buck having won the confidence of our citizens and having demonstrated his ability to direct the affairs of the state to the best interests of its citizens, it is our considered judgment that for the continued best interests of the state he should be retained in the office of Governor. We therefore urge upon him the duty of again becoming a candidate for that high office, pledging ourselves to devote our best efforts to secure his election.