ALMA MATER

Dear Howard, thy sons and thy daughters are here

To give thee great praise as thy due;

With their voices they sing out their full rousing cheer,

Proclaiming them loyal and true.

O, Mother of men and of women devout,

Who have kept thy dear memory warm,

First of schools in our hearts and the whole world to us,

Standing calm and proud through all storm.

To thy halls did we come in our infancy's days,

And our voices will e'er sound thy name;

From our fathers and mothers, we've learned how to praise

And revere dear old Howard's fair fame.

Our beacon and star since the days that we trod

These fair halls in our youthful delight;

Alma Mater beloved next to country and God,

Till we end in The eternal calm night.
