Description: oblique view from southeast

Photograph Number: 1 of 6

A black and white photograph showing the corner of a wooden building. The upper portion of the image features horizontal wooden siding, some of which is peeling or damaged. A vertical wooden plank runs down the corner. Below the siding, a small, rectangular, light-colored plaque is mounted on a darker, possibly stone or brick, foundation. The plaque contains three lines of text. The background to the right of the building is dark and appears to be foliage or a wooded area.
