Dear Dr. Horowitz:

I would like to acknowledge and thank you for your letter of December 6, 1966, and the attached copy of a letter to Mr. E. Hall Downes concerning the use of the William C. Jason school in Georgetown.

I have read your letter and your views expressed therein with great interest and I sincerely believe that with the conscientious efforts of concerned citizenry, such as you, and others, that indeed there shall be established a school in Sussex County of which all of us can be proud. I am sure that by working together there will be established a school and curricular which will meet the approval of many, if not all, Delawareans.

The time and trouble you have taken to write to me about this new and wonderful facility is very much appreciated.

GOVERNOR'S OFFICE

Dear Mr. Governor,

On November 10th a citizens meeting was held in Milford to discuss the best use to which the phased out William C. Jason School, in Georgetown, could be put. At the conclusion of the meeting, a resolution was unanimously passed urging that the School be used as a comprehensive Junior College, instead of a limited Technical-Vocational Institute, as was then being planned.

Mr. E. Hall Downes, chairman of the Board of Trustees, which is to report to you with recommendations concerning the use of the School, was kind enough to send a report on the Board's current attitude, to those who signed the resolution.

The attached letter is a copy of the response which I have sent to Mr. Downes. As the letter most clearly represents my sentiments in the matter, as well as the sentiments of every other voter with whom I have discussed the issue, I have taken the liberty of sending you a copy.

I hope that you will help us in our attempts to assure that this wonderful facility will be used to the fullest advantage of the citizens of lower Delaware.

Respectfully yours,

Donald Horowitz, D.V.

Dear Mr. Downes,

My wife and I were most pleased to receive your letter of November 23d outlining the Board's current attitude on the future utilization of the William C. Jason School in Georgetown. The fact that the Board took the time and trouble to read the resolution, write the report, and send copies to the signers, proves that the Board is indeed concerned with the feelings of the public in this matter. So long as the Board has this attitude, I think we need have no fear that the Jason facility will not be used to it's fullest potential.

There were approximately 280 in attendance at the citizens meeting when the resolution was drawn up. Although the discussion lasted about three hours, there was not one voice raised AGAINST the use of the facility as a technical-vocational institute. Rather, it was felt that to restrict the use of this facility to only that purpose would be a shameful waste. Among those present who were familiar with the Jason School, there was complete agreement that the plant is large enough to house a technical-vocational institute within a comprehensive Junior College, where academic courses could also be offered both at the terminal and transfer levels. This was indeed an exciting prospect to all of us present. Think of the young men and women who could not afford to live away from home for 4 years, but who could now afford a college education as they would be living at home for the first 2 years! Think of those who are not college material, but who would find it out before putting their families to a burdensome expense, and could still avail themselves of courses suited to their intellectual capabilities! Think of the adults who could enroll in evening courses that would enhance their chances for job promotion, or those who would take courses simply for their own self satisfaction, thereby improving themselves as individuals, parents, and members of society! When one considers that it would probably be many years before the State could afford to build a facility that would offer the community all these advantages, one realizes what a tragic waste it would be if a "found" facility of this nature were not utilized to it's utmost potential. Other communities apparently have made this error only to have to rectify it later. Senator Robbins, who was present at the meeting in Milford, stated that when his Senate Education Committee was investigating potential uses for the Jason school, they examined other facilities of a similar nature. They discovered that in almost every situation where the school started out as a straight technical-vocational center, they eventually had to add the academic terminal and transfer programs. This was one of the important reasons that influenced his committee to favor a comprehensive Junior College rather than a limited Technical-Vocational Institute.

As you ask for suggestions as to an appropriate name, I would like to suggest simply "Southern Delaware Junior College." I believe that using the name of the State, and the term "Junior College," impart considerable prestige. Although many Junior Colleges offer technical and vocational courses, if you feel that as a compromise measure you would like the name to indicate the all-encompassing nature of the school, then I would suggest "Southern Delaware Comprehensive Junior College." Personally, I prefer the first name.

I would indeed be most happy to receive progress reports during your planning period, and thank you for your offer.

As this letter rather clearly expresses my views on the subject, as well as the views of others with whom I have discussed the matter, I am taking the liberty of sending copies to the Governor, and my local State Senators and Representatives.

Once again, may I thank you for your interest in the opinions of interested citizens, such as myself.

Respectfully yours,

Dear Governor Terry:

As a feature editor of the "Del-Chem Bulletin", I am seeking information concerning the proposed Delaware Institute of Technology for a feature article. The "Del-Chem Bulletin" is published monthly from September to June by the Delaware section of the American Chemical Society and sent to each of its members. The membership is approximately 2,847.

Since the readers are chemists with a deep interest in the training of laboratory technicians and future chemists, I am eager to learn the aims of the proposed Delaware Institute of Technology - when it is expected to be operational, how many locations are planned, where they will be located, whether the curriculum will be the same at all locations, what administrative and other appointments have been made, and whatever other information you can give me.

Thank you for your help in this matter.

Thank you so much for writing to me on July 22, 1966, in which you offered the assistance of the Delaware Society of Engineering Technicians in working out the details for the new Delaware Institute of Technology.

I am quite certain that the technical knowledge and know-how which your organization can provide in setting up an institution of this type will be of great benefit to the new Board members in their deliberation.

Consequently, I am pleased to refer you to Mr. E. Hall Downes the newly appointed Chairman of the Institute of Technology. I am certain Mr. Downes will be most willing to discuss your kind offer of assistance.

The Honorable Charles L. Terry, Jr.
Governor of the State of Delaware

We are pleased to see House Bill #529 - Delaware Institute of Technology - become enacted. The possible benefits to Delaware could be large from this type of educational institution.

We are highly interested in the details to be worked out for the technical institute; and we offer our assistance in these matters.

Since the end of 1965, we have been working toward the objective of supplying students for a technical institute in Delaware. Our aim is to reach all the high school counselors with a prepared presentation of facts about our profession and new educational facilities. Thus far, we have met with a representative number to determine the degree of knowledge the counselors have on the subject. Their knowledge was very limited. Counselors are very restricted as to the amount of time per pupil, thus it is extremely hard to guide students in the right direction without more time for, and knowledge of, the student. Regardless of these difficulties an ignorance of the semi-professional skills (Engineering Technicians) on the part of the counselors can be cleared up by our campaign.

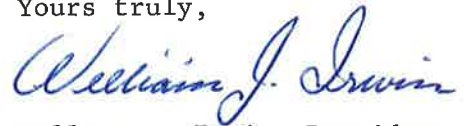

Reaching the student during his junior year or earlier in school would be better to formulate the students ambitions than during the rush of his senior year. The student would be better able to decide on his future knowing what the jobs are really like, and he would have an idea of his abilities by this time. The ideal media for this would be a movie or slide talk presentation covering the Engineering Technician or all Engineering Fields. We have no plans to formulate such a film or slide talk at present but are searching for the best way to reach the student and guide him. In the future we hope to work closely with the Delaware Council of Engineering Societies toward student guidance.

Other topics yet untackled are:

1. The education of industry toward better utilization of Engineering Technicians.
2. Improving the public image and knowledge of the Engineering Technician's job.
3. Proper curriculum and training for the Delaware Institute of Technology, (DIT).
4. Location and physical facilities for the Delaware Institute of Technology.
5. Obtaining qualified educators to constitute the faculty of the DIT.
6. The determination of industries need for technicians in the Delaware Valley.

Mainly, we wish to be of assistance in these challenges and problems. We are hoping to work closely with you and the board you appoint to meet the challenge.

Yours truly,

William J. Irwin, President
Del. Society of Eng. Technicians

Doctor Edward W. Cummings
Cummings

Dean and Officer of Engineering.

Born in Phillipsburg, New Jersey.

Joined the University of Delaware in June, 1959, after having been head of the School of Chemical and Metallurgical Engineering at Purdue University since 1951.

He received his B. S. Degree from the University of Illinois in 1930, and his D. S. Degree from M. I. T. in 1934. Both degrees are in chemical engineering.

Prior to joining the Purdue faculty, he was Officer of Chemical Engineering at the University of Illinois from 1936 to 1951. During his career, which includes experience in industry, as well as engineering education and administration, Doctor Cummings has been active in the American Chemical Society and the American Institute of Chemical Engineers. His research interests include properties of gasses at high pressures and study of jet fluid flow, drying and liquid extraction.

Doctor Cummings also has been employed as a chemical engineer by the Texas Company, from 1933 to 1935, and as Assistant Officer of Chemical Engineering at North Carolina State College, from 1935 to 1936. He received a Guggenheim Fellowship in 1957, and in the same year was a Fulbright lecturer at Delft Technical Institute in the Netherlands. He was a recipient of the William H. Walker Award, which recognizes excellence in the field of Chemical Engineering.

Doctor Cummings has received the Naval Ordinance Development Award, and is the author of "High Pressure Technology," a McGraw-Hill publication of 1956. In addition, he is the author of more than 65 articles, bulletins and reviews in technical journals. He is a member of Tau Beta Pi, Sigma XI Phi Lambda Upsilon, Omega Chi Epsilon, and Rotary International. He was President of the University Club of Purdue from 1955 to 1956.

Doctor William C. Kay holds an executive position with the DuPont Company, which he joined in 1934. Except for the war years, he has resided in Delaware ever since. From 1943 to 1946, and again from 1950 to 1955, he was involved in the designing and preparation of atomic nuclear facilities at the Hanford Engineer Works, Richland, Washington, and the Savannah Nuclear Plant near Aiken, South Carolina, which the DuPont Company handled under contract with the U. S. Government.

Since 1955, he has held various executive positions with DuPont, and is at present General Manager of its Organic Chemicals Department.

Born 1908 at Melrose, Minnesota; he attended public schools in Minnesota and North Dakota. In 1930 he was graduated from the University of Minnesota, with a B.S. Degree in chemical engineering. He then attended M. I. T., where he received his M.S. and D.S. Degrees.

Doctor Kay is a member of the American Institute of Chemical Engineers, and American Chemical Society, the American Institute of Chemists, Phi Lambda Upsilon Sigma XI, Tau Beta Pi Honorary Society, Delaware Research Foundation, and is on the Board of Directors of the Mental Health Association of Delaware.

He married Margaret Jane Morgan, of Atlanta, Georgia, in September, 1938. They have four daughters and one son. They live in Greenville, Delaware.

Dear Mr. Reaves:

Thank you very much for your letter of July 8, 1966, in which you recommend establishment of the up-state branch of the Delaware Institute of Technology near the intersection of Front and Market Streets in Wilmington.

At present, it has not been decided where the exact location of the up-state facility will be made. As you know, the Board has just been appointed, and, I believe one of its first duties will be to determine the physical sites of the facility throughout the State. Your recommendation is duly noted and I will see to it that your proposal is presented to the new Board.

The time and trouble you have taken to inform me of your views about this matter is very much appreciated.

Sincerely yours,

Charles L. Terry, Jr.

Dear Governor Terry:

The Wilmington Federation of Neighborhood Associations and Councils wish to commend your proposal and subsequent passage of the Delaware Institute of Technology Bill. We feel that this Institute is an essential step forward in our State's educational program.

We are requesting that the proposed Up-State Branch be located within the city of Wilmington; perhaps near the Junction of Front Street and Market Street. By locating the Facility in Wilmington, those students of lesser economic means in the city will be better able to take advantage of this facility. It would be easier for those in the city to travel outside. Also, such a location is near the Bus Terminal and the junction of main highways.

We appreciate your consideration of this request.

Sincerely yours,

Raymond L. Reaves

Dear Mr. Bant:

Thank you so much for your letter of July 6, 1966, which arrived in my office while I was in California attending the National Governors' Conference.

Specifically, in answer to your question as to whether the William C. Jason School has been designated for the Delaware Institute of Technology, it is my recommendation and hope that the Jason School will be so utilized. Of course, the new members of the Institute of Technology Board will have as one of their primary duties the task of selecting two sites, one in northern Delaware and the other in the lower end of the State. In my opinion as well as others, it appears that the William C. Jason School is ideally located and can be utilized at a minimum cost for the new Institute's curriculum. I feel quite certain that, based on past studies, the William C. Jason School will also be selected by the new members of the Institute of Technology and no doubt will make that recommendation to the General Assembly for transfer to the Institute of Technology early in the session next year.

Consequently, I would have to say that the William C. Jason School is unavailable to the Georgetown Special School District. I hope I have been able to answer your questions in this regard and my best wishes for every success to you in your new position as Superintendent of the Georgetown Special School District.

Sincerely yours,

Charles L. Terry, Jr.

GOVERNOR'S OFFICE

Hon. Charles L. Terry
Governor of the State of Delaware

Delaware

My dear Governor:

Having just assumed the position of Superintendent of the Georgetown Special School District, I feel it is a necessity to start off in the proper direction regarding future school construction.

We are included in the recent Omnibus Construction Act signed by you for acquisition of site and construction of a 12-classroom elementary building.

Before getting fully involved in this, I would like to be in a position to inform my Board of Education and community that the William C. Jason School is unavailable to us.

Realizing that Middletown was given the L. L. Redding #120 and Dover the William Henry #133, I was wondering whether it has definitely been decided to utilize the William C. Jason School for the Delaware Institute of Technology.

Dr. Gousha informs me that the State Board of Education has not received the committee's final report but feels sure this is the probable disposition that will be made of the Jason facilities.

We do not wish to impede or stand in the way of the Delaware Institute of Technology but we do feel as though we were "slighted" somewhat when we consider the disposition of the two other comparable institutions and the fact that we are definitely forced into building more rapidly because of the "phasing out" and "integration" patterns. We will be totally integrated in our district, grades 1-10, both faculty and students, this September since we have accepted all the children in our district, grades 1-10, from the Richard Allen School and the William C. Jason School.

We would appreciate as prompt a reply as possible in order for us to feel positive that we are proceeding in the correct direction.

Very truly yours,

William P. Bant

A Vice President and member of the Executive and Finance Committees of Hercules, Inc. Born in Connellsville, Pennsylvania.

He studied chemistry at Pittsburgh College and Johns Hopkins University, earning a Ph.D. Degree from the latter in 1933.

He joined Hercules in June, 1933 as a chemist at the Research Center near Wilmington. He transferred to sales development work in the Synthetics Department in 1936, and to sales development for the Formal Naval Stores Department in 1939. In 1943 he was named Manager of the company's Sales Research Division. Four years later, he was appointed Special Assistant to the General Manager of the Paper Makers Chemical Department, to aid in administrative work, and after several months was named the department's Assistant General Manager. He became General Manager of that department in June, 1956. Doctor Long was elected a director of the company in December, 1958, a Vice President and member of the Executive Committee in April, 1961, and a member of the Finance Committee in April, 1963. Doctor Long participated in the 13th Annual Session of Advanced Management at Harvard University in 1950.

He served as a member of the Executive Committee of the Pulp and Paper Foundation at North Carolina State University, from 1958 to 1960.

He is a member of the Alexis I. du Pont School Board and also belongs to the Wilmington Country Club, the Hercules Country Club, and Phi Beta Kappa and Sigma, XI Honorary Fraternity.

He resides on Centerville Road in Greenville, Delaware.

JOHN A. BIVENS, JR.
DIRECTOR

August 2, 1966

Mr. E. Hall Downs
Chairman
Delaware Institute of Technology
P. O. Box 697
Dover, Delaware

Dear Hall:

This is in reply to your request of last Thursday concerning the capital funds available to the new Technical Institute.

The William C. Jason School District was authorized $350,000 in the "Annual Capital Improvements Act of 1965" for the construction of an auditorium. This Act appears as Chapter 384, Volume 54, Laws of Delaware. Funds will no longer be available under this Act as of August 21, 1966, except for monies required to complete construction started prior to that date.

The question of whether such funds authorized to the William C. Jason School District would be available for the use of the Delaware Institute of Technology would be dependent upon the provisions in the transfer of this property to the Institute. If no specific provisions have been made, perhaps general State law allows such a transfer of fund authorization. I do not have knowledge of any such laws, however. If you find that one exists, please let me know.

Considering the limited time remaining before the authorization is void and with the legal question of availability, it is recommended that the Institute consider these funds as unavailable.

Mr. E. Hall Downs

I suggest that the Institute submit its Capital Projects requests through the Capital Improvement Program process to the State Planning Office. I am pleased to enclose a set of capital project request forms and the instructional booklet for completing them.

I thank you for this opportunity to provide assistance. If you should have any questions, please contact me.

Sincerely yours,
